FOR MANAGERS & SUPERVISORS:

- 7 Habits for Managers – July 26 & August 2 (Two Day Course)
The “Industrial Age” approach to management focused on controlling employee behavior. In contrast, today’s “Knowledge Worker Age” demands a different approach: to unleash the full potential of employees and empower them to make their best contributions. This intensive, application-oriented learning experience utilizes a set of tools to help managers meet today’s management challenges, including conflict resolution, prioritization, performance management, accountability and trust, execution, collaboration, and employee development. It’s a unique, new approach to management development that helps your management team move from getting good results to attaining great and enduring results. Based on 7 Habits of Highly Effective People.
- Coaching for Managers – June 29
The best managers are great coaches. Are you one? Coaching helps you to develop, inspire, and motivate employees to better serve the citizens of Alameda County. The Coaching for Managers course is specifically aimed at supervisors and managers wanting to acquire foundational coaching skills to help them better support the people they manage. In addition to helping you develop coaching skills, we will provide the structure and resources necessary to give you the confidence to adopt a “coaching-oriented management style. The program involves on-line pre-work, one full-day class, and two follow-up sessions.
- Developing Effective Teams – May 23 or September 12
Explore how groups evolve into teams, understand group dynamics, assess your own team player style, and understand the role of the team leader. Participants will also learn about Patrick Lencioni’s 5 dysfunctions of teams and 5 key issues for team success.

- Developing and Delivering Effective Presentations for Managers – September 19

Participants learn a ten-step process to plan, practice, and rehearse a presentation on any business topic. The course includes confidence-building planning skills such as identifying your audience, purpose, and main message; practice on how you'll carry yourself during your presentation, and practice asking and answering questions.

- Financial Management for the Non-Financial Manager – April 26

This class is aimed at managers from disciplines other than finance who wish to better understand financial concepts and how they are put to use. Why should non-financial managers even care about finance? It is hard to understand key strategic and management challenges without a grasp of budgets and finance. Having knowledge of the specialized nomenclature, rules and policies of the finance area, and being able to understand and engage successfully with finance staff will improve a manager's effectiveness.

- Leading at the Speed of Trust – September 26

Trust-related problems like redundancy, bureaucracy, fraud, and turnover put the skids on productivity, divert resources, squander opportunities, and chip away at an organization's brand/reputation. On the other hand, leaders who make building trust in the workplace an explicit goal of their jobs elevate trust to a strategic advantage—accelerating growth, enhancing innovation, improving collaboration and execution. Leading at the Speed of Trust is a highly interactive workshop that engages leaders in the real work of identifying and closing the trust gaps that exist in your organization. Instead of paying outrageous "Trust Taxes," your organization can begin to realize "Trust Dividends." You will learn how others perceive your trustworthiness from your personal tQ™ Report. You will understand the real, measurable Trust Taxes you might be paying without realizing it and make action plans for building trust accounts with all key stakeholders.

- Making the Transition to Leadership: From Buddy to Boss – April 19 or September 20

The transition from line employee to the role of leader is one of the most significant and challenging career steps. New leaders face new expectations, changing relationships, added responsibilities, and the need to develop additional skills. Research shows that at least 75% of all managers and leaders have not successfully made the transition. Participants will explore the challenges faced by new leaders and learn some of the skills needed to successfully make the transition to a leadership role.

- Promoting Employee Engagement – June 15

Studies show that highly engaged employees are 480% more committed to helping their organizations succeed than non-engaged employees. What is the difference between a motivated employee and an engaged employee? Leads, supervisors and managers will learn how engagement drives productivity and team morale and what they can do to increase employee engagement.

- Strengths Based Leadership – June 22

Did you know that leaders who use their strengths daily are six times more likely to be engaged, satisfied, and productive on the job and less likely to experience stress or anxiety? In this half-day class, you will use the StrengthsFinder assessment to discover your natural talents to more effectively lead others. Through reflection, discussions, and group activities, you will begin to understand how to better lead from your strengths.

Developing the Individual: Programs for individuals and leaders to develop skill proficiency

- 7 Habits for Highly Effective Employees – August 1 & 8 (Two Day Course)

Individual strengths and personal effort drive effective organizations. The 7 Habits of Highly Effective People training helps your organization achieve sustained, superior results by focusing on improving the effectiveness of individuals and leaders. Participants gain hands-on experience, applying timeless principles that yield greater productivity, improved communication, strengthened relationships, increased influence, and laser-like focus on critical priorities. Participants learn how to: take initiative, balance key priorities, improve interpersonal communication, leverage creative collaboration, and apply principles for achieving a balanced life.

- Behavioral Emotional Intelligence (EQ) – June 27

Behavioral Emotional Intelligence (EQ) focuses on how effectively people work with others. Studies have shown that Emotional Intelligence competencies account for the difference between star performers and average performers, particularly in positions of leadership. Behavioral EQ is a new approach that shows how behaviors can be used to put EQ into action. It identifies skills that can be learned and developed, turning an interesting concept into a powerful workplace advantage.

- Building a Successful Partnership with Your Supervisor – May 9 or August 22

Learn how to work with your supervisor toward mutually agreed-upon goals that are in the best interests of you, your supervisor, and your organization. Participants will learn how building a strong relationship with your supervisor can increase your effectiveness and make your work life easier.

- Career Essentials for You and The Organization (Three Day Series)

You own your career; the organization owns the jobs. Learn how to plan and develop your career to best meet your own personal development goals and how to always be an essential part of the organization.

Note: By registering for the first session, you will be registered for the entire series.

June 6 - Self-Assessment and Career Planning

June 13 - Resume Development & Interviewing for Advantage

June 20 - Networking & The Power of Reputation

- Communicating and Relating: Breaking Down Barriers in the Workplace (DiSC) – May 2

DiSC is a model of human behavior that helps people understand "why they do what they do." The DiSC looks at four primary dimensions (Dominance, Influencing, Steadiness, and Conscientiousness) that make up the DiSC model and interact with other factors to describe the typical behavioral styles of individuals. This class is intended to help you understand behavioral tendencies, appreciate how behavior affects others, develop strategies for improving relationships and productivity, and respect, appreciate and value differences.

- Conflict Management – July 18

Conflict seems inevitable, especially in the workplace. No matter how well we normally get along with the people we work with, occasionally conflicts will occur. What are the sources of conflict and how do we respond to conflict? Is conflict ever constructive? This workshop will examine the nature of conflict, the different ways people handle conflict, and methods to cope with conflict

- Contemporary Business Writing – May 16 & 17 (Two Day Course)

In this engaging, fast-paced, two-day course, you will learn how to get the reader's attention, organize information clearly and logically, and present a professional image of yourself and your organization by using contemporary formatting techniques for documents including email. The course includes exercises and activities that focus on the common sentence-level challenges like unclear and cluttered wording, misused words, and common grammar problems. You'll work individually and in small teams to draft and edit job-relevant documents and receive writing coaching from the instructor.

- Developing the Leader In You – June 7, 14, 21, 28, July 5 & 12 or September 28, October 5, 12, 19, 26 & November 2 (Six, Half-Day Series)

One night you go to bed and wake up the next morning, put in charge of a group of people or a project. Are you prepared? Most people aren't. In this series of workshops, you will learn how to prepare yourself for a leadership role in the future and develop your leadership abilities in your current job.

Note: By registering for the first session, you will be registered for the entire series.

- Focus Your Priorities: The 5 Choices to Extraordinary Productivity – August 29

In today's world, there is a greater abundance of opportunity for both organizations and individuals to accomplish extraordinary goals. However, all too often, the demands of our jobs, coupled with the barrage of information coming at us from so many sources is overwhelming, exhausting and distracting. The 5 Choices Essentials enables a significant amount of time and energy to be spent on life's most important objectives. When we deliberately pay attention to the most important things amidst the distractions, we can harness the opportunities and technologies available today and soar to creative and innovative heights. This time and life management course will produce a measurable increase in productivity and an inner sense of fulfillment and accomplishment by helping you to make the right choices as you plan your day, week and life.

- Political Astuteness/Savvy – April 25

Achieve optimal program goals and results. Be more successful in your current job and position yourself for growth opportunities. Participants will understand what political astuteness is, what value it has to them and their programs, and how to develop and apply it.

- Office Ergonomics – April 4 or August 9

This training is designed for employees who work at computers. This program will help you learn to prevent injuries and improve efficiency on and off the job, assess your own workstation, and make simple adjustments to improve your safety and comfort.

- StrengthFinders – July 20

Did you know that people who use their strengths daily are six times more likely to be engaged, satisfied, and productive on the job and less likely to experience stress or anxiety? In this half-day class, you will use the StrengthsFinder assessment to discover your natural talents and special interests. Through reflection, discussions, and group activities, you will begin to understand how to articulate and apply your unique value in a way that is deeper than the stereotypical phrases we often use to describe ourselves.
